Revised 02-05-2021

Victims' Rights & Resources

Being a victim of a crime can be traumatic. You may feel isolated & confused, and unaware of where to turn for practical advice or support. This handout highlights resources available to assist you and explain your rights as a victim under Arizona law.

As a victim of a crime in Arizona, you have the right to be treated with fairness, respect, and dignity, and to be free from intimidation, harassment, or abuse through the criminal justice process. All state, county, and municipal justice agencies and courts are required to perform certain duties to ensure you receive your rights.

To request a copy of the full text of the Arizona Victims' Bill of Rights or for questions, contact:

Department

Violent Crime Reporting

If you have experienced domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, or other violent crime, you should:

- Go somewhere safe immediately and report the crime by calling 9-1-1.
- Preserve any evidence to aid in the investigation and prosecution:
 - Refrain from washing, bathing, showering or douching if possible.
 - Refrain from washing or disposing of clothes or other items worn or used during the incident.
 - Do not delete text messages, emails, social media posts, or voicemails.
- Seek medical care. An Arizona statute provides victims the ability to seek medical treatment without charge to the victim.
 - You do not need to agree to aid in prosecution in order to seek medical treatment for the collection of sexual assault evidence.
 - It is the victim who will decide if he/she wishes to pursue criminal charges.

Confidential Reporting

Crime victims within the University's jurisdiction are not required to pursue action either within the criminal justice system or the University's conduct process. However, victims are encouraged to report the incident to law enforcement and the Dean of Students office. The victim's identity will be kept confidential, and the incident will only be used for timely notification of the community and inclusion in the Annual Safety & Security Report.

Orders of Protection

Victims may have the right to obtain an Order of Protection or Injunction Against Harassment, which can provide legal protection from the offender.

To complete an online form to request an order or injunction, please visit:

Arizona Superior Courts: azpoint.azcourts.gov

Pima County Courts: <https://www.jp.pima.gov/Forms/OPPK1%20-%20Customer%20OP%20Packet.pdf>

Victims on the University of Arizona campus may also contact the Dean of Students office for assistance in obtaining these orders.

Interim Accommodations

Interim accommodations are the short-term, remedial measures that can be taken to ensure the safety of all individuals involved. It is important to note these measures do not assign responsibility or impact

These accommodations can include:

- No contact orders.
- Changes to on-campus housing.
- Changes to class and/or activity schedules.
- And changes to workspace.

Accommodations can be enacted quickly, before (or even without) a complaint has been filed.

Interim accommodations provided to a victim will be kept confidential to the extent that such confidentiality will not impair the ability to provide the interim actions or protective measures.

University employees should contact the Office of Institutional Equity, (520) 621-9449, equity.arizona.edu

University students should contact the Dean of Students Office at (520) 621-7057, deanofstudents.arizona.edu

University Disciplinary Action

The Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) and the Dean of Students Office investigate all issues of discrimination, including harassment and retaliation consistent with the Nondiscrimination & Anti-Harassment Policy.

These disciplinary procedures provide for a prompt, fair, and impartial process. Information on the procedures for campus disciplinary action, including all forms of sex discrimination, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking can be found at titleix.arizona.edu.
